From the Editorial Team

Hello, my name is Jan Baldwin, and I am happy to be the editor for the magazine covering the parishes from the Ore and Deben valleys with Nan Waterfall from Marlesford, who will manage the advertising (more from Nan next month.)

A little bit about me. Seven years ago, when our three children had left home to pursue their dreams, my husband and I moved to Suffolk from Surrey, looking for a change of direction from fast-ish track jobs to slow-ish pace project. We ended up in Brandeston where the project is still on-going.

To help meet local people and find out what was going on, I took on the Brandeston and Kettleburgh parish magazine, which I've enjoyed doing ever since and have met some lovely people and attended some great events. Nan Waterfall has helped look after Marlesford Church and the parish magazine advertising for over 10 years.

It is an exciting opportunity to expand the magazine in 2022, to include the parishes of Brandeston, Kettleburgh, Easton, Parham, Hacheston, Marlesford and Campsea Ashe, and I'm looking forward to meeting new people and getting to know what is happening in communities beyond my patch.

The magazine will be in organised in three parts. Part one will be for the church. Part two will give each parish two pages to share news, events and useful contacts (except for Easton, which will have one page, because it is continuing its own magazine, but we want to maintain a close link). Part three will be for local advertising.

The new magazine will be for the communities it serves. For the local people and parish churches to share their news and events. The vision is for the magazine to be received and read mostly online which will make it free and in colour. Some people will still want a printed copy, and this will be in black and white and for the first six months the cost will be subsidised by church funds.

Hopefully in the early days readers and subscribers will 'bear with us' as we find our feet and work out a sustainable magazine which the communities like and feel that it serves their parish needs. There will be an opportunity in the future, for interested parties to give feedback, so adjustments can be made to best fit the community.

With Best Wishes to Michael Dawe (the retiring editor) and his wife Kaye who have done a great job during their tenure of the parish magazine and we all wish them the very best for their next steps. Also, Fiona and Patrick Dawe, who distribute the magazines, and Rosamund Webb, who is the main contact for Campsea-Ashe, have been key people in the magazine team. In the mean-time, if you have an article for the first new magazine in July 2022, please send to it me: janebaldwin325@gmail.com by 21st of the month and if you can keep your article to less than 120 words that would help enormously.

Many Thanks Jan

From the Revd Graham Hedger

As we move into May, so Sue and I begin the next phase of our journey as we enter retirement and eventually move to Lincolnshire. This gives me the opportunity to thank so many people for making us welcome in the villages of the benefice and making our four years here very special. It has been a real delight to share in the life of the communities that make up the benefice. There have been many highs and lows as we have shared together the journey of recent years.

Having been in Suffolk for nearly 40 years, I have witnessed many changes in the life of the church. When I arrived here in 1983, we had over 200 clergy, most of them paid and all men. We had one woman deaconess. Eventually the Church of England, stirred into equality, ordained women. Now we have around 110 paid clergy and some 60 self-supporting ministers (they earn their money by working in a range of secular roles and then serve their local churches in their 'free time'). In that same time the number of lay people exercising ministry has grown considerably.

This is the major change that has occurred in the Church of England over recent decades as we have learned lessons from other churches and from the bible. Ministry is not something done by one person as it once was. Instead it is shared by the whole congregation. It is more effective; it brings diversity and experience and reaches parts of a community that one person could never hope to reach.

What has also changed in that period is the way in which the local church is funded. Although on paper the Church of England looks exceptionally wealthy, much of the money is ringfenced under charity law for specific purposes. The Church Commissioners which used to be the 'paymaster' of the C of E, now finds that its money is directed towards a range of specific areas of work. Clergy pensions, (the first real clergy pension scheme was formed in the 1970s, and at the time was a straight draw down from the Commissioners, with no contributions from dioceses). The funding of bishops and their offices, direct grants to cathedrals, and to a number of dioceses that are in areas of economic deprivation. They also make grants for specific projects. This diocese benefits from two such grants.

Unfortunately, as a relatively new diocese we do not have the vast reserves that many of the historic dioceses have, so we are dependent upon people's generosity. As a benefice we have many people who give generously and sacrificially to the work of the church, and others who fundraise. This makes a difference. However, as a group of churches it is several years since we have been able, despite the valiant efforts of many, to pay the Parish Share in full. It is the Parish Share that pays for clergy, their housing, training of new clergy, (more in training than at any time in the past 30 years) and support services to parishes.

The C of E has changed more in the past forty years than at any time since the dramatic early years from Henry VIII to Charles II. Long may that continue as we respond to the Holy Spirit. In the coming months as you move forward as a benefice, I hope and pray that you will soon have a new priest in charge to work alongside you on the next step of the journey.

Graham

Wildlife themed events for May and June 2022

Suffolk Wildlife Trust, Woodbridge Wildlife Group have wildlife themed events planned for May and June 2022, with the return of their popular Plant Sale after an absence of three years, as well as a couple of Evening Nature Walks.

"We are delighted to be holding our Plant Sale once again at Foxburrow Farm on Sunday 1st May between 2 pm and 4 pm" said Phil Smith, Chair of the Woodbridge Wildlife Group. "Entry to the event is free and visitors will find the usual mix of locally grown plants, second hand books, a raffle and refreshments."

Later in the month the group hosts an Evening Nature Walk on Friday 20th May, starting from 7 pm. "We will be starting the walk from Melton Picnic Site, Wilford Bridge Road, IP12 2PA" said Mr Smith. "From there we will take the boardwalk path and quiet lane to Suffolk Wildlife Trust's Bromeswell Green nature reserve. The walk is a distance of 2-3 miles long and suitable for adults and children over 10."

Then on Friday 24th June the group invites you to join them on an evening walk for Nightjars at Blaxhall Heath and Common starting at 9.15 pm. This walk starts from the Sandgalls car park (TM 382559) and will last for approximately one hour.

Phil Smith said "As darkness falls we will wander across the heath, looking and listening for signs of the nightjar. This fascinating bird is a summer visitor to this reserve and as well as hearing their distinctive call, I hope we will be lucky enough to catch sight of one. The walk should also give the chance to see glow worms" added Mr Smith.

Places on both walks are strictly limited and must be pre-booked by contacting Suffolk Wildlife Trust. A minimum donation of £5 per person is payable, with under 25's free, and bookings can be made online through www.suffolkwildlifetrust.org (events section) or by telephoning them on 01473 890089. Dogs are not allowed on either walk. Participants are advised to wear sturdy footwear and bring a torch and binoculars.

For further information about these events contact the local group on swtwoodbridge@outlook.com or telephone 01473 625630.

Coping with the Rising Cost of Living

The rising cost of living is here to stay and many people are struggling or worried about how they are going to manage. The most important thing is that people do not worry on their own. They should try to speak to the company who has sent them a bill or ask for help. Citizens Advice can advise what and may be able to support people.

However, these increased costs are here to stay so it is important that people look at longer term solutions. It is important that people check they are getting all the income they are entitled to – https://www.entitledto.co.uk/ can help people calculate their entitlement.

A lot of people don't realise that they may be entitled to Council Tax Reduction and pensioners might miss out on claiming pension credit. Even, if tiny, pension credit may be worth claiming as it can enable people to claim other benefits such as help with council tax or free dental care.

It can be helpful for people to look at their income and expenditure with someone who has experience with budgeting – they can help identify changes that might help. People facing financial hardship might find that companies like Anglia Water, Essex and Suffolk Water or TV Licensing can offer extra support. There are also deals available for mobile and broadband services, including a social tariff (you can check these on the Ofcom website).

If you would like to talk to someone at your local Citizens Advice, please ring 01728 832193 between 10.00am and 2.00pm on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday or Friday.

PLEASE REMEMBER

There will be no issue next month (June). Any copy for the July issue should be sent by 21st June to our new editor, Jan Baldwin e mail janebaldwin325@gmail.com
It would be appreciated if all articles could be kept to less than 120 words.
Thank you.

The Covid pandemic has disrupted international supply lines for many of the goods and services that we previously took for granted, the consequence being an increase in inflation, which drives up the cost of living. This challenge is now further compounded by war in the Ukraine and whilst our thoughts are quite rightly with the people of Ukraine, we must also recognise the need for the UK to become more self-sufficient in the future, and less reliant on imported goods - particularly food and energy. Ukraine was the biggest international producer of fertiliser and the biggest exporter of wheat. As a result of the war, there has been considerable disruption to supplies, leading to increases in the cost of many food stuffs in our shops, such as bread and breakfast cereals.

Looking ahead, we simply must produce more of our own food. By protecting and supporting our farmers and food producers, we also protect consumers by keeping food prices in the shops lower in the long run. Here in Suffolk, our farmers stand ready to rise to the challenge of producing more locally-grown food, but we must also look to support them better. We've heard from our farming leaders that they are concerned about "crippling" labour shortages, and I'd like to see the Government look at improving current immigration policies, as well as at the Skilled Workers Visa scheme, to try and help tackle this issue.

We also need to step down our reliance on an overseas workforce to plug our seasonal workforce gap. To achieve this, we need to develop homegrown talent – make the sector appealing to work in, develop a greater vocational offer and bring forward and support our next generation of farmers and food producers. Where appropriate, I would also like to see greater support become available, allowing our farmers to diversify and support the appropriate roll-out of solar energy, whilst simultaneously recognising the need to protect our precious farmland from inappropriate housing development.

I am disappointed that Ipswich Borough Council chose to prioritise the development of green fields of the northern fringe, rather than prioritise brownfield development in the town centre. I have no doubt that the shop keepers in the town centre would have liked the additional footfall that this regeneration would potentially have delivered and it is time that all of our local councils put into action a brownfield first policy. But more than this, we need to start protecting and supporting our own food producers. We need to start listening more to our farmers and, where is practicably reasonable, better protect farming land for food production.

The war in the Ukraine has brought much into perspective - the importance of protecting freedom of speech, the importance of improving our energy security, and the importance of increasing our food security. If we want to keep food prices in the shops down in the long run, perhaps it is time we thought not just in terms of fair-trade shopping, but of supporting our local farmers and food producers that we will help to keep prices down for consumers and hard-pressed families.

Wild About Campsea continues its partnership with the Parish Council and the Village Hall Committee in constructing the raised beds that you will now see on the playing field, next to the village hall. They will be filled and maintained by volunteers who will seek to demonstrate wildlife-friendly gardening by growing vegetables, flowers and herbs in potagers for the village to share. Grant applications have been submitted to fund a cabin workshop to be built at the rear of the beds, near the village hall, from where residents and visitors of all ages can enjoy nature study, gardening, art and craftwork together. This will be available for any group within the village to use. Anyone interested in helping, or donating money or materials, should send a text to 07976 047164 and we'll be in touch!

Meanwhile, breeding bird survey work has started on the Chantry Close scrubland and wildflowers are being monitored in the churchyard. Creation care continues in Campsea Ashe!

Other news. The superb performance of The Seven Last Words from the Cross on Good Friday was really well attended. It was a pleasure to see the church so full.

Note for your diary. On Sunday July 3rd at 3pm there will be a light summer concert given by The Goldcrest Ensemble (flute, viola and harp), followed by light refreshments. This will be in aid of Suffolk Historic Churches Trust. This local trust is extremely generous with their grants for fabric work to keep All Saints standing. Please come and relax in the cool of a hot summer's day, we hope!

A big thankyou to everyone who has bought and brought things from the church stall here at Flocky Cottage. Items sold over the last 2 years have included fruit, vegetables, books, mugs, plants, a mower, 302 jars of Marmalade, 210 jars of Jam and 33 jars of Jelly - that's an awful lot of sugar!! The total raised is nearing £2,200 which I'm hoping to achieve before we leave the village. Without your help this would never have been achieved.

We have unearthed many boxes of "The History of All Saints Church" hidden around the house here for safe keeping. These guides were printed many years ago but we thought that, rather than letting them be forgotten in the vestry, we would deliver one to every house in the village as an interesting bit of information on a part of your village heritage. I hope you will accept them as a token of our gratitude.

Many thanks to all those who participated and supported our coffee morning it was a joyous occasion and was a wonderful opportunity to eatch up with friends and neighbours whom we had not seen as often as we would like because of the pandemic. We managed to raise over six hundred pounds and once again on behalf of the PCC many thanks.

We are still looking for volunteers to help with cleaning the church (4 times a year) and flower arrangers. Do let me know if you are able to help.

THE BIG PLATINUM JUBILEE LUNCH ON SUNDAY JUNE 5th

It was 10 years ago when we had our last village Big Lunch, tying it in with the Diamond Jubilee. On that occasion we had to move inside the Community Centre as the weather was poor.

This year we are planning a Big Lunch to celebrate the Platinum Jubilee and are very much hoping it will go ahead in the road outside the Community Centre. The lunch will be one part of the village celebrations for the Jubilee. Di Howard, Rob Maycroft and I are the organising group for the lunch. Nearer the time we shall be sending out a note to every household, to make sure no-one is missed out, inviting them to join in and asking people if they will be bringing a savoury or sweet contribution to our shared lunch so that we get a really good variety. In 2012 we had a great lunch, and let's make it even better this time. We shall dig the bunting out of the shed, ask if anyone can make more and do all we can to make the lunch go with a real swing.

Other events for the weekend include a Gala Concert in church with champagne and canapes on Friday 3rd. The church will be decorated with interpretations of the theme of the weekend, and we shall hold our own service on Sunday at 10.00am prior to the lunch.

I know there are plans for a children's painting competition and details of that will be announced before long. All the paintings will be displayed in the Community Centre. Nan Waterfall

Sunday June 5th

Village Big Lunch from 12.30

Come and join in our shared lunch in Church Rd outside the village hall (if wet, inside the hall as we did in 2011).

Richard will be mine host at the Marlesford Celebration bar.

Nan will be contacting everyone in the village to ensure we have a reasonable mixture of sweet and savoury dishes.

Art competition

Di's has organised an Art Exhibition for all children living in Marlesford. All the works submitted will be on display in the Community Centre. For details see the noticeboard at the Community Centre.

A gift for Marlesford Children

The Parish Council will generously donate a special gift to every child living in Marlesford. Watch this space!

The Marlesford Bakers return

After a gap of a month, we are back on May 14th, when Lesley will also be bringing plants for sale. In addition, we would like to start a new initiative. We know that Marlesford residents are very generous when it comes to supporting charities. In the past there have been events with donations going to MacMillan, Hearing Dogs, NSPCC, EACH and more. So, each month, starting in May, we will provide coffee, tea and a slice of cake to fundraise for one charity a month. This is where YOU come in. If you have a favourite charity you would like to support in this way, please can you let Carol or me know the details as soon as possible, and we will publicise it through the village email. We will provide the refreshments, but it will be your task to make and serve the coffee and tea. So please everyone, come along, support the nominated charity, and enjoy a cuppa and a chat.

The June cake sale will be on 11th when a different charity will be supported.

Carol and Nan

Margaret Carswell 1935-2022

Margaret was a very modest woman, and it was only after she died that her many achievements were revealed to those of us who knew her in Marlesford. The following information comes from her obituary in the Daily Telegraph, submitted by her children Grace, Nell and Douglas.

Margaret was a leading authority on the birds of Africa; her Bird Atlas of Uganda still serves as a definitive ornithological record of one of the most biodiverse regions of the planet. Pursuing her passion for all things ornithological, she spent many years living in Uganda, recording the bird life of that country during often turbulent times. Her book is a definitive ornithological record of one of the most biodiverse regions of the planet

She was born in Assam, India. During the Second World War her father served as a volunteer in the Assam Valley Light Horse, helping to build airstrips for the war effort. As the Japanese attempted to invade India, they got close enough for the young Margaret to hear the fighting at Kohima. Shipped off to boarding school in England after the war, she kept a rescued barn owl in her dormitory.

A doctor by profession, she read Medicine at Westminster Hospital Medical School, where she met her future husband, Wilson Carswell. Shortly after qualifying, they moved together to Uganda, on what was supposed to be a two-year assignment. There, she discovered that her services as a doctor in the newly independent country were in great demand. She proceeded to spend almost two decades as one of a handful of doctors at Nsambya Hospital in Kampala. Run by Franciscan nuns, it was at times the only functioning medical facility in the country.

Even after Britain, in 1976, severed diplomatic relations with Idi Amin's Uganda, and most British nationals had left, Margaret Carswell and her husband continued to provide treatment to patients, many of whom had travelled on foot for many miles.

She never turned anyone away, even treating wounded soldiers from opposing sides at the same time. Guns, she always insisted, must be left outside her clinic. Famously unfussy, she dealt with endless political instability, frequent power cuts and water shortages, as well as hyper-inflation, as she raised her young family. During one particular episode of shelling, she moved the family to sleep in the cellar. Adept at using cigarettes to negotiate her way through roadblocks, she was, she would joke, the only doctor she knew who handed out cigarettes.

When the Aids epidemic struck in the early 1980s, she witnessed the devastation it brought first hand. As her husband led efforts to diagnose this new disease, she played a critical role, collecting and shipping blood samples to the UK government research facility at Porton Down. She also did much to ensure that the world was made aware of the Aids disaster unfolding across Africa. She briefed visiting British ministers, WHO officials and medical experts – many of whom were initially disbelieving – about the scale of the disease.

Birds, however, remained her great passion. Travelling from the snow-capped Mountains of the Moon (or Ruwenzoris, as she insisted they should be called) to the deserts of Karamoja, she was as excited about spotting some nondescript sparrow-shaped bird as she was by the sight of a shoebill stork or a paradise flycatcher. At a time when the annual migration of birds from that part of Africa to Europe was much less well understood, she ringed and released hundreds of migrating birds each year.

Well into her sixties, she went on an expedition to Ethiopia, spending several months living under canvass studying quelea birds. In her seventies, she flew to Moscow (which she had visited as a student in the late 1950s), and with a guidebook and a small bag boarded the trans-Siberian train to Vladivostock.

Settling in Marlesford, Suffolk, she played an active role in village life and served on the parish council. She tried her hand, without much success, at bell-ringing. Despite having spent many years living abroad, she had a deep love of the English countryside.

Safely welcoming new care home residents

Allonsfield Farm enables us to offer a truly unique care experience.

Our residents at Allonsfield House take delight in experiencing nature at its very best through the eclectic range of animals (sheep, goats, pigs, ducks and chickens) on our farm; together with the journey of growing our very own vegetables and fruit to eventually enjoying the delicious food prepared by our chefs

Come and view our luxury suites

Our farm and the experiences it offers embraces and enhances our holistic approach to care.
